TUESDAY, JAN. 18, 1876.

In answer to a correspondent, we will state that the sureties of the City Treasurer are Messrs. F. P. F. TEMPLE, Pio Pico, G. ALLEN, C. E. THOM and E. BOUTON.

NOTHING new has transpired concerning the city funds. The Board of Education on Saturday caused some transfers to be made which placed about four thousand dollars where it belongs—to the educational department. It seems that twenty-three thousand dollars of the city's money went down with the bank wreck, which the Finance Committee hope to secure without calling on the Treasurer's bondsmen. The remainder—estimated at from ten to fifteen thousand dollars—is not yet accounted for. All is well that ends well, but as the end is not yet reached we may hope for, but cannot promise, a happy ending of the unsatisfactory circumstances which at present surround our city finances.

The Republican of last evening gives publicity to a rumor that Mr. TEMPLE is negotiating a loan in Europe on long time at a low rate of interest, which will enable him to liquidate his liabilities. While we most earnestly wish that this might be the case, we cannot shut our eyes to the difficulties which must be removed before the negotiation can be brought to a satisfactory conclusion. The mortgages now in existence must be removed before others can be placed on the property, and as some of the heaviest of these mortgages have still some years to run, and as the holders are satisfied with the rate of interest they are receiving, it will be seen the completion of the loan will be a matter of some time. We, however, trust it may be effected.

Who is to Blame?

The Express of last evening comments severely on the act of City Treasurer MELLUS in refusing to obey the order of the Council to place the money in the custody of TEMPLE & WORKMAN. This censure is deserved just so far as a refusal to obey the order of the Council is deserving of censure and no farther. The Council is sensible for neglecting to enforce its order. If the Council had the power to order the custody of the money into the hands of the individual or firm offering the highest rate of interest and giving satisfactory bonds, it had the right and was in duty bound to enforce the law. Therefore if the city loses money by the act of MELLUS in depositing funds on general deposit in his own name, the Council must share the censure or show that it could not enforce its resolution. To admit that it could not enforce the resolution is to acknowledge that it had no legal warrant for passing it. The Council sought to make the city's money earn interest for the city. The City Treasurer undertook to make the city's money earn interest for himself and lost a part of the principal. Somebody is responsible for this loss. Is it the Council or is it the Treasurer or are both responsible?

Sureties.

It almost always happens that a portion of the public money lost by an officer is never recovered. This is due to the fact that bondsmen are unable to pay, or through the sympathy always felt for those who become responsible for money they never had, and in the management by which it was lost they had no part, they are not required to pay. The people are lenient in such cases, but the burden these losses thrown upon them is never lightened through their leniency. The holders of warrants do not abate a cent, and bond owners never fail to require every dollar the moment it is due. These are reasons why tax-payers of this county should at this time be more particular than heretofore in requiring the most unexpected security that their county funds will not go as the city funds have gone—where the woodbine twine. It is not enough that the sureties on these bond are men of large property, but they should be men who entirely own the property that stands in their name. To insure this end the records should be examined and the extent to which the property of the surety is encumbered by mortgage or other claims, fully known. We are not aware who are the sureties of the County Treasurer elect, but in view of his recent financial embarrassments we hold it to be the duty of those whose business it is to accept his bonds to investigate to the fullest extent the responsibility of those who bind themselves for the safe keeping of the people's money. Too much care cannot be taken in the discharge of this important duty. Safe bind safe find, and no fair minded man will object to the most thorough investigation as to his ability to meet and discharge a responsibility he proposes to assume. At the earliest moment we propose to examine the record, and from it give the amount and the liability of the property of every man whose name appears as surety on bonds for the safety of the funds of the city and county. We hold that the people have a right to this information. Without giving such information no man's name would be accepted as security for a private loan. Why should this precaution be omitted when accepting the sureties of a public officer who is to hold in trust the people's funds? Why should we be less particular in selecting bondsmen for the keeping of public money than we are in accepting the signers to a contract for the payment of a private note? Would the names of one-half the men whose signatures appear on official bonds be good at a bank for one-tenth the amount? They would not, and those who accept them as bondsmen for twenty thousand dollars would not consider their note of hand good for half that sum. The HERALD proposes to stop the easy going bondsmen business in this county at once, and we hope, forever.

Those Bills.

In Sunday morning's HERALD we printed two bills, one giving the Board of Supervisors power to issue bonds for the building of a court house and jail, and the other authorizing the City Council to issue bonds to the amount of seventy-five thousand dollars to be expended in improving our irrigation system. Both of these propositions directly interest the people and they should be fully informed as to the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred before the authority to issue the bonds is given. In regard to the building of a new court house and jail there is much diversity of opinion. While there is a general feeling against doing anything which will increase the burden of taxation, grand jury after grand jury embody in their reports an urgent demand for a new county jail. That there are abundant grounds for this demand, no one will for a moment deny. The only question is whether it is better to build now or try to get along a few years longer with the old building? We shall be pleased to hear from the people themselves their opinion on the matter. The irrigation bill concerns the city alone. The system on which the water for irrigation is supplied is so imperfect as to be hardly worthy the name of system, and it is apparent to all that measures should be taken for economizing and carefully dispensing the supply. But has a practical plan been submitted and will the proposed expenditure accomplish the purpose aimed at? We doubt it and shall continue to entertain those doubts until more light is given. We hope our delegation will hold both bills until citizens have time to examine them, and determine on the practicability of the proposed improvements. The bill for court house and jail fixes no limit to the amount of bonds issued. This should be remedied by the insertion of a fixed amount. That for irrigation should be so amended as to provide the whole matter in the hands of a Board of Public Works, to consist of three or five members, who shall be selected from among our first citizens.

Serious Accident.

Hand-Car Catastrophe—Sad Result of Carelessness—A Merry Party Come Grief—One Man Seriously Injured—Two Men Slightly Injured.

We are called on to chronicle quite a serious accident that occurred about two o'clock Sunday morning, on a down grade between San Gorgonio and Colton. A Southern Pacific hand-car, on which were five men, was stopped suddenly, and the occupants of the car precipitated to the track by the severe shock. It is supposed the stoppage was caused by the break not being properly thrown off and the rod in some way catching in the wheel, bringing the car to a standstill. At the time of the accident the car was on the down grade and going twelve miles an hour, the shock throwing all the men violently to the track. Mr. W. A. Matthews had one of his legs broken in three places. Billy Bird, his uncle dislocated, a brakeman, named Butler, was insensible for some time, and the other two were slightly injured. The men were immediately brought to town and put under medical care. The case of Mr. Matthews is particularly unfortunate, as his wife died a short time ago, leaving three small children, and he has been out of work a long time, but was about going into the employment of the railroad company when this sad accident occurred. Drs. Wise and Stanway attend him and think they can save his leg, in the meantime kind friends will look after his wants.

Installation at Wilmington.

Last Saturday evening, D. D. G. M. Horace Burdick, assisted by Past Grand Jos. Huber, Jr., C. C. Lips, J. R. Sommers, J. Kuhrt and J. M. Pierson installed the following named officers: Bohr Lodge 138, I. O. O. F.; R. L. Garnett, N. G.; H. Jacoby, V. G.; F. P. Forbes, Sec. C. J. Knobell, Tres.; Fred Burkell, C. S. G. Thompson, W. T. B. Hays, R. S. N. G.; J. Bareley, L. S. to N. G.; W. Chittenden, L. S. to N. G.; W. Burce, L. G. The installation was public and the hall was filled with ladies and gentlemen who had come to witness the interesting ceremonies. After the installation, the members of the order and the members of the Masonic fraternity, and their wives and lady friends, together with a large number of invited guests, adjourned to the Exchange Hotel, where all sat down to a splendid banquet. To the rattle of knives and forks succeeded speeches, toasts and the popping of Champagne corks. The ladies and everybody were toasted. After the banquet the hall was cleared, and until the hands of the clock gave admittance that the hour of twelve was at hand and Sunday upon them, the party tripped lightly to the music of a violin. The evening was pleasantly spent, and the people of Wilmington added new proofs of their generosity and sociability.

[SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.]

PACIFIC COAST.

For Los Angeles.

CALIENTE, Jan 17th.—The following passengers for Los Angeles left on the Telegraph Stage Line to-day: John Well and boy, M. A. Peirce, Jno Rosino.

San Francisco, January 17th.—Ship Harvest Queen, whose sad fate was reported by telegraph, was owned by Charles H. Marshall and Co., of New York, she sailed from this port on the 25th of August with cargo on owners account of $9,198 cents of wheat valued at $7,509. She cleared here for Cork, where she arrived safely on the voyage of 126 days, from that port she was ordered to Liverpool, and it was while beating up the Irish Channel that she was run down and sunk by the Steamer Adriatic, all on board numbering some 30 souls, going down with her.

The body of Juan Ferrera, a Spaniard, was found in lot on Noe and Fourteenth streets. Beside him was found a double-barreled shot gun with one load. He had gone through a picket fence and dragging his gun after him one barrel discharged, the contents going into his breast and killing him instantly.

B. Cutter, wholesale liquor merchant, was found dead in his office yesterday of apoplexy.

The Assembly appointed to examine into the affairs of Golden Gate Park, spent the Sabbath in downright hard work endeavoring to get at facts in allegation against the management of the Park. They have been five days at work and have secured information which is by no means flattering to the Park Commissioners. Either through wilful neglect or desire to attain to which they were not entitled, certain officials find themselves in a most unpleasant position. The Committee have not yet concluded their labors, but will prosecute their inquiries in Sacramento and then again return to this city.

The Coronor held an inquest on the body of Louis McHenry yesterday and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide. The only important witness examined was his son Lorenzo whose testimony differs in no particular from the account already telegraphed.

The funeral of J. Rodgers Johnson yesterday under the management of the Odd Fellows, was one of the largest ever held in the city.

Frank H. Hubbard, a young dentist of this city, committed suicide by taking morphine, at the What Cheer House, he was charged with forging the names of three firms in Sacramento, two of this city, one of them being the firm of N. Gray & Co. It is probable that the deceased anticipated a arrest and exposure, and seeking an obscure lodging place, assumed another name and swallowed the poison. He was but twenty-four years of age.

Four policemen made a raid on the Chinese at Sacramento street lodging house last evening for the purpose of arresting those celestials who carried concealed weapons. The Chinamen were too quick for the officers and only two were arrested with arms on their persons. A small army was found on the floor where they had been thrown.

Food & O'Brien, managers of Consolidated Virginia and California Mining Company announce a determination to represent the product of those mines for the month of May at the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. During that month there will be placed upon these two mines a working force to take out an amount of ore sufficient to produce $10,000,000 worth of bullion. Arrangements have been made to employ the Sharon and other mills for its reduction, and in June it will be forwarded to Philadelphia. It will require fifteen cars bearing ten tons each, to transport the silver bars. There will be 35,000 silver bars altogether, and 150 tons of solid silver bricks.

Fraud.—A young lad of this place while riding across the spring branch brook, on the end gate of a lumber wagon, lost her equilibrium, and in consequence made a back somerset into the ice cold water. She has our sympathy.

Three immigrant families from Texas are now encamped on the lot near Mr. Cummington's residence south of town. They have been looking around for land the past week with the intention of settling here. Several more families from Kansas, are expected in a few days.

Mr. Thomas Anderson died in this city yesterday. To-night, at 7 o'clock, the Masonic fraternity will hold a meeting to prepare for his burial.

There was a good rain again in the Cajon and Eastward of that valley yesterday afternoon; and a gentleman in from there late in the evening, said it reached for several miles this way from the Cajon.

Thank fortune, San Diego is not in need of a breakwater to protect its harbor. That is secure from all save the wash from the river; and, as time and red tapedad along, that evil will be remedied, it is to be hoped.

An enthusiastic San Diegan says the country which we are along False Bay, below old town, is one of the finest in the world, and that there is a single tangent of five miles over which a carriage may pass as smooth and nice as a floor.

Mr. Wadham cut down a tobacco tree in his yard yesterday that was two years old from the seed, a section of which was sawed off and sent us, measuring 42 inches in diameter, and 15 inches in circumference. Others in his yard, planted at the same time and in the same way, measure 18 inches in circumference. These trees have had no particular care, and but little water. The timber is said to be tough and durable. More of it should be planted.

The oldest officer of the Prussian Army is Field Marshal Von Wrangel, who will complete next year the ninety-second year of his life, and the eightieth year to his service in the Prussian Army.

We find the following complimentary notice of one of our banks in the Downey Courier:

SCRANTON, Jan. 17th.—The Senate did not meet to-day till 3 p. m., and the Assembly till 1:30. There is nothing on the Senate file to-day regarding the Southern section.

McConnell's Los Angeles Irrigation bill is second on the Assembly file today, for passage.

far as the whisky cases are concerned, nothing of any importance having yet been reached. There are indications, however, of some important developments, as the U. S. Attorney has today been in consultation with the Attorney for the defense with a view it is supposed to the perfection of the compromise which has evidently been made.

Gen. Webster, U. S. Collector, scouts the idea that the authorities at Washington and the Government officials here are not in accord, and evidently does not think much of the theory that Secretary Bristow does not endorse the compromise by means of which adequate testimony is to be secured. It is known to be the fact that the Government did not have evidence to convict unless some of the indicted distillers were induced to disclose what they knew, and the whole road promises to be a fizzle.

The Board of Trade Committee on freight met this morning. Messrs. Pope, Stevens and Baker present. A communication from Mr. J. F. Joy, of Michigan Central, was received, on which he says that there is no section in the world on freight routes, and safely said, where business is done so cheaply and at so low rates as between Chicago and New York and Boston. No road has done business cheaper than that is not bankrupt. The roads East of Chicago are not giving rates on which they can move their line. Any road that rates under their rates dies bankrupt.

The newspaper assaults and the clamor raised by the business community, on account of alleged unfair discrimination, is unjust and un-called for.

The Dynamite Again.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17th.—In connection with the mysterious loss of the steamer City of Boston, and the theory advanced to show the participation of the dynamite invented Thomassen, it is disputed as to that vessel. It is now stated that two months previous to her sailing from New York, which was in April, 1870, a man corresponding to the description of Thomassen had an interview with Satoro Arai, agent, at that time of the Cuban Republic, and proposed the scheme for injuries to the Spanish Navy by means of dynamite loaded in a thick tubular glass receptacle, to be placed in lumps of coal which would be clandestinely shipped to H. I. A.

[Written for the HERALD.]

To Miss Lulu Ferguson on her Eighth Birthday.

BY ZOE ZELLA.

Lulu, while the sweet bells of youth are chiming,

Luring thee ever up life's sunny slopes,

I pray no sorrow ever check thy climbing,

No specter hang its shadow o'er thy hopes,

And yet, dear Lulu, though wish no sorrow,

May find its home within thy girlish heart;

We know not what the distant far to weary,

May bring, or what sad gift it may impart,

Remember then, as up you climb life's mountain,

Its rugged slopes are sometimes in the way,

Should your feet tarry at Morah's bitter fountain,

Say to thy sinking heart, "be not afraid,"

Forget not when the angel touched the water,

Owing to God, the power of healing comes,

And who raised the Jewish ruler's daughter,

Bids thy young heart cherish His holy name.

Art! Lulu, earth hath nothing worth the living,

To pay us for its sorrow and its strife,

And human hearts have not one thought

worth giving,

If the soul cannot claim eternal life.

I know too oft that when youth is surrounded
